Education

2003 PhD in Computational Linguistics, University of Pennsylvania. Advisors: Ellen Prince and Aravind Joshi.
1991 MA in Applied Linguistics, University of Essex, U.K. Advisor: Keith Johnson.
1988 BA in English Linguistics & Literature, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece. Senior Research Advisor: Savas Patsalidis.

Academic and Professional Positions

2022–2026 Program Director, Robust Intelligence, Division of Information and Intelligent Systems (IIS), Directorate for Computer and Information Science and Engineering (CISE), U.S. National Science Foundation.
2021– Senior Research Investigator, Department of Computer and Information Science, University of Pennsylvania.
2021–2024 Co-Founder and Chair of the Board, Choosito! Inc.
2014–2021 Co-Founder and CEO, Choosito! Inc.
2013–2021 Adjunct Professor, Graduate School of Education, University of Pennsylvania.
2018–2019 AI Advisor, XPLAIN.
2018–2019 AI Advisor, Lithero.
2006–2012 Research Associate, Computer and Information Science, University of Pennsylvania; Lecturer, Graduate School of Education, University of Pennsylvania.
2005–2006 Lecturer, Department of Theoretical and Applied Linguistics, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki.
2003–2005 NLP Postdoctoral Fellow, Institute for Research in Cognitive Science (IRCS), University of Pennsylvania.
1996–1997 Visiting Scholar, Department of Linguistics, University of Pennsylvania.
1991–1996 Director of Studies, Ekpedeftiki Foreign Languages.

Honors and Awards

2018 IBM Watson AI XPRIZE Runner-up Milestone Award.
2001–2002 School of Arts and Sciences Dissertation Fellowship, University of Pennsylvania.
2000 Educational Testing Service Summer Fellowship, Princeton.
2000–2001 Institute for Research in Cognitive Science Fellowship, University of Pennsylvania.
1999–2000 Institute for Research in Cognitive Science Fellowship, University of Pennsylvania.
1998–1999 University of Pennsylvania teaching distinctions ("Hall of Fame" professor/course ratings) based on student evaluations.

Research Grants as Principal Investigator

2026 NSF EAGER: Language as Interface: Toward Integrated Multimodal Architectures for Grounded Intelligence. Principal Investigator. Award amount: $400,000.
2019 NSF STTR Phase I: Simplification AI for Workforce Upskilling (Award 1914104). PI: Eleni Miltsakaki; Co-PI: Chris Callison-Burch. Award amount: $224,743.
2015 NSF SBIR Phase II: Linguistic Analysis of Web Content for 21st Century Inquiry Learning (Award 1456186). Principal Investigator. Award amount: $742,971.
2013 NSF SBIR Phase I: Linguistic Analysis of Web Content for 21st Century Inquiry Learning (Award 1315554). Principal Investigator. Award amount: $183,924.

Professional and Research Leadership

- National Science Foundation program leadership in Robust Intelligence; responsibilities included AI/ML/LLM research portfolios and cross-program activities in CISE/IIS.
- Program leadership for the National Artificial Intelligence Research Institutes program, including the Strengthening AI theme.
- NSF program director for the National Deep Inference Fabric (NDIF), supporting scientific study of large language models.
- Founder and CEO/Board Chair of Choosito!, translating research in NLP, readability, information retrieval, and learner modeling into deployed educational technology.
- Programs Committee, Hellenic University Club of Philadelphia.

Deployed AI Systems and Technology Transfer

Virtual Librarian AI web-based recommender system for personalized content recommendation using topic-based models of learners' prior familiarity with educational content.
Choosito Search & Learn Educational search engine using machine learning and natural language processing to evaluate reading level and thematic content of websites in real-time search.
Antelogue Pronoun-resolution system for text and dialogue, including handling of non-referential pronouns.

Upskilled Prototype for identifying concepts and prerequisite concepts in technical content for workforce upskilling and reskilling.

- Choosito! partnered with Carnegie Learning in 2018 to deliver its smart search technology to school districts.
- Alumna, LearnLaunch Accelerator; annual reviewer, Milken-Penn GSE Education Business Plan Competition.
- AI advisor to XPLAIN and Lithero.

Invited Talks and Presentations

2024 "ChatGPT: The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly," Hellenic University Club of Philadelphia, March 21, 2024.
2023 "ChatGPT: The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly," 5th Conference on Epistemology, December 2023.
2023 "Researching AI to Change the Landscape of Learning Experiences," Language Educators Symposium, University of Pennsylvania, March 2023.
2019 "Learning from XPRIZE Startups to Achieve Successful AI innovation", (October 2019), AI World 2019.
2019 Presentation of Choosito's Virtual Librarian (May 2019) at the AI for Good World Summit, Geneva.
2019 "Machine Learning for Learning", (January 2019) LearnLaunch Across Boundaries Conference.
2018 Invited Choosito presentation at Startup Spotlight by SXSW (March 2018).
2018 "Open Education Resources", (January 2018) LearnLaunch Across Boundaries Conference.
2017 Invited Choosito presentation at Cooley Edtech Pitch Night.
2017 Research to Practice Roundtable with Penn GSE Faculty, panelist (November 2017), Philadelphia.
2016 "The Importance of a Research Plan for Product Development & Company Growth in the Education Industry, (September, 2016), EDSi (Educational Design Studio), GSE, Penn.
2016 "AI, ML, and Natural Language Technology for Personalized Learning", (September 25, 2016), AI with the Best Conference.
2010 "Technology for Effective Use of the Internet in Education", (April 13. 2010), American School Community, Athens, Greece
2010 "Technology for Effective Use of the Internet in Education", (February 11. 2010), Campion School, Athens, Greece
2009– Multiple professional development workshops for K-12 teachers and Higher Education Language Lecturers on the use of educational technology to develop 21st century skills and the design of activities aligned with core standards.
2008 "Text and Video Analysis Tools for Struggling Readers and English Language Learners" (October 22, 2008), School of Education, University of Delaware.
2008 "Intelligent Analysis of Text and Video Content" (July 31, 2008), Institute of Computer Science, Crete
2006 "Modeling Aspects of Coherence in Discourse" (January 19, 2006). Graduate School of Education. University of Pennsylvania.
2005 "Modeling Aspects of Coherence" (March 16, 2005). Educational Testing Service. Princeton.
2005 "Topics, Subjects, Pronouns, and Discourse Connectives" (January 26, 2005). Linguistics Department, University of California at Santa Barbara.
2005 "Annotating the Penn Discourse Treebank: A Bottom-up Approach to Discourse Structure" (January 17, 2005). Linguistics Department, University Paris 7.
2004 "Annotating the Penn Discourse Treebank: A Bottom-up Approach to Discourse Structure" (June 15, 2004). Colloquium speaker at the Computational Linguistics Colloquium series organized jointly by the Department of Computational Linguistics and Phonetics and the International Post-Graduate College in Language Technology and Cognitive Systems, Saarland University.
2003 "Anaphoric Arguments for Discourse Connectives" (April 11, 2003). Penn-Tuebingen Workshop at the University of Pennsylvania.
2002 "Effects of Syntactic Form on Reference Resolution" (June 18, 2002). 5th Annual IRCS/CCN Undergraduate Summer Workshop in Cognitive Science and Cognitive Neuroscience, University of Pennsylvania.
2002 "Effects of the Main-Subordinate Distinction on Attention Structure: Implications for Focusing Accounts" (April 12, 2002). Penn-Tuebingen Workshop at the University of Pennsylvania.
2002 "Subordination in Discourse" (February 13, 2002). Department of Linguistics, University of Washington, Seattle.
2002 "Subordination in Discourse" (February 22, 2002). Department of Linguistics, SUNY at Buffalo.
2002 "Subordination in Discourse" (January 21, 2002). Department of Linguistics, Indiana University.
2000 "Centering in Pronominal-Free Text" (November 2, 2000). Division of Informatics, University of Edinburgh.
2000 "Evaluation of Coherence" (June 20, 2000). Educational Testing Service, Princeton.

Teaching

University of Pennsylvania

- EDUC 526: Technology for Educators.
- EDUC 644: Technology Mediated Teaching and Learning.
- EDUC 535: Technology for Educators.
- EDUC 000: Special Seminar on Technology in Teacher Education.
- EDUC 639: Design of Learning Environments.
- LING 550: Syntax I.
- LING 106: Verbal Art and Language.
- GREK 015/017/018: Elementary and Intermediate Modern Greek.

Aristotle University of Thessaloniki

- LING 342: Introduction to Computational Linguistics.

- LING 121: Introduction to Linguistics II.
- LING 412: Special Topics in Computational Linguistics — Processing Anaphoric Expressions.

Advising and Mentoring

Doctoral Students

- Reno Kriz, Computer and Information Science, University of Pennsylvania (advisor: Chris Callison-Burch).
- Quinn Burke, Graduate School of Education, University of Pennsylvania (advisor: Yasmin Kafai).
- Paschalia Patsala, Computational Linguistics, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki.

Master's and Undergraduate Research

- Audrey Troutt, Master's student, Computer and Information Science, University of Pennsylvania.
- Stella Tsaklidou, undergraduate research project, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki.
- Martha Lambropoulou, undergraduate research project, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki.
- Athanasios Koutroupis, undergraduate research project, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki.

STEM Mentoring

- Volunteer mentor, GLIST (Girls Lead in Science and Technology): taught Python for three years and mentored the transition to a student-driven after-school STEM club.

Selected Academic, Industry, and Community Collaborations

- University of Pennsylvania: Chris Callison-Burch and collaborators on text simplification and educational question generation; Dan Roth and Kostas Daniilidis and collaborators on vision-language navigation.
- University of Delaware: Chrystalla Mouza and collaborators on educational technology research.
- University of Pennsylvania / University of Colorado: Martha Palmer and collaborators on language technology research.
- University of Pennsylvania: Insup Lee and collaborators on multidisciplinary AI research.
- Workforce and education partnerships with Arizona State University, Southern New Hampshire University Center for New Americans, IEEE, HIAS Pennsylvania, ELIX (Greece), and Daraja Academy (Kenya).

Selected Media and Publicity

- 2019: Presentation of Choosito's Virtual Librarian at the AI for Good World Summit, Geneva.
- 2019: "Machine Learning for Learning," panel discussion, LearnLaunch Across Boundaries.
- 2018: Carnegie Learning to Deliver Choosito Through Its EMC Platform (Business Wire).
- 2018: Conversations from LearnLaunch (radio interview).
- 2016: "15 Women Who Are Changing the Face of Tech in the Region," Philadelphia Business Journal.
- 2016: "Choosito: A New Way to Search the Web," television feature.
- 2016: "Choosito! Supporting Kid Search, Discovery, and Literacy," School Library Journal.
- 2015: "She's Changing the Way Our Kids Surf the Web," Huffington Post.
